

AGC Processor Certification Program

The AGC Processor Certification Program is an initiative by AGC Glass to support its certified processors in supplying high quality glass to the construction industry.

Continuing support and growth for your businesses

With this program, you will have more – more sales, marketing and technical support – to improve your processes and sell your products in the industry.

How to be an AGC Certified Processor?

Contact us and an AGC representative will visit you to initiate the AGC Processor Certification Program

- A pre-certification trial may be carried out as part of the certification program
- All technical specifications, including production equipments and process capabilities required shall be reviewed
- Review training required for sales and marketing team
- AGC and Processor program responsibilities

Certification is awarded when all requirements have been met.

Each certified processor shall be recertified periodically, typically every 12 months.

AGC Processor Certification Program

Benefits for you

As an AGC certified glass processor, you will enjoy a wide range of benefits which include:

Wide selection of AGC high-performance glass for any glass needs

AGC COATED GLASS		AGC INTERIOR GLASS
Solar Control glazing	Thermal Insulation glazing	Temperable Painted &amp; Acid Etched
Stopsol T-Sunlux Sunergy Stopray	Iplus Planibel Low-E Ipasol	Lacobel T Matelac T

Certification, (on-site) support and consultation from the best qualified glass experts to help improve your businesses

With a team of specialised technical experts based in Asia, we are always ready to support AGC Processors on any technical enquiry, including on-site visit, to:

- Provide recommendations for production quality issues
- Provide best practices in production, packaging and logistics aspects
- Review process layout and consultations for process flow improvements
- And more...

Exclusive access to AGC glass performance and glazing software

Available only to AGC certified processor; AGC offline calculation program allows quick and easy evaluation of glass makeups and data performance in various international standards.

Dedicated Marketing Support

AGC offers marketing support in terms of product training, marketing collaterals, and glass samples to enhance product knowledge and facilitate sales activities.

If you will like to be part of AGC Processor Certification Program, please contact our Sales Representative today!!